Welcome to Ongera collaboration space policies, terms, and commitments. At Ongera, we're passionate about sharing knowledge and building skills, but we're equally committed to transparency, trust, and safety. When you grow, our entire community grows with you!

Whether you're a researcher, a learner, a content contributor, or a partner, this page helps you easily find all the guidelines and agreements that shape how we work together. Explore our collection of policies and terms to understand how Ongera strives to make knowledge-sharing open, inclusive, and secure for everyone.

1. Privacy Policy

1.1 Purpose

Ongera is a digital platform designed to promote research, innovation, and skills-sharing among Rwandans across the world. Our goal is to build a collaborative environment where students, Diaspora, professionals, and researchers can learn, share, and grow together while upholding integrity, respect, and the pursuit of knowledge.

1.2 Membership and Eligibility

Ongera is open to all Rwandan citizens at home and abroad, to all private and governmental institutions that wish to share the research outcomes. Members must:

- Use their real names or a consistent professional identity.
- Agree to follow the Ongera Terms of Use and Privacy Policy.

1.3 Cookies and Data Collection Tools

We use cookies, small text files saved by your web browser, to gather, store, and share information about your activity across websites. These cookies help us remember details about your visits, such as your preferred content, and make your experience on Ongera easier and more personalized.

- Warning or content removal.
- Temporary suspension of the account and reported to the relevant authority.
- Permanent ban for repeated or serious violations.

> Note: Users can appeal disciplinary actions through Ongera's support channel within seven days of notification.

4. Privacy and Data Protection

Ongera respects user privacy and will not share personal data without consent. Members must also protect the privacy of others, especially when sharing research data involving human participants.

All users must comply with Rwanda's Data Protection and Privacy Law found at https://dpo.gov.rw/ (https://dpo.gov.rw/)

5. Collaboration

Members are encouraged to collaborate through group projects, mentorship, and open discussions. Research involving institutions should have institutional approval before being uploaded.

6. Acknowledgment

Proper acknowledgment and attribution are mandatory for all shared work, and awards will follow the project team plans.

7. Partners

If you are accessing Ongera through an organization or institution partnership, please review the specific privacy terms that apply to that program. By using our Services, you confirm that you have read and agree to this Privacy Policy.

8. Policy Updates

Ongera may update this policy from time to time. Users will be notified of significant changes. Continued use of the platform implies agreement with the latest version.
